Background/Description of the Disclosure

iPeople, inc. ("iPeople"), the House of Investments, Inc. ("HI"), Ayala Corporation ("AC"), and AC Education, Inc. ("AC Education") signed the definitive agreement in connection with the merger of iPeople, a subsidiary of HI, with AC Education, a subsidiary of AC. The merger, which shall be completed as a statutory merger in accordance with Philippine law, shall be subject to the approval of the stockholders of iPeople and AC Education, and the appropriate regulatory authorities.

Post-merger, listed iPeople shall be the surviving entity with HI and AC controlling 51.3% and 33.5%, respectively. The transaction values the combined entity approximately at Php15.5 billion.

Date of Approval by Board of Directors	Oct 1, 2018
Date of Approval by Stockholders	TBA
Other Relevant Regulatory Agency, if applicable	SEC, PCC, BIR
Date of Approval by Relevant Regulatory Agency	TBA

Rationale for the transaction including the benefits which are expected to be accrued to the Issuer as a result of the transaction

The merger will bring together the 7 educational institutions of iPeople and AC Education, which together will offer quality education to students across all income segments, with campuses in Metro Manila, Calabarzon, the Bicol Region, and Mindanao. The merger will include iPeople and its significant subsidiary, Malayan Education System, Inc. (Operating under the name of Mapua University), one of the country's leading engineering and technical universities, a world ranked QS-3 star university and the school with the most CHED Centers of Excellence in Engineering, and its subsidiaries, Malayan Colleges Laguna, the best board exam performing private higher education institution in Calabarzon, Malayan Colleges Mindanao in Davao, and Malayan Science High School in Manila. It will also include AC Education and its subsidiaries, the University of Nueva Caceres, one of the oldest and largest universities in Bicol, National Teachers College, the country's pioneer private teachers' training tertiary education institution, and APEC Schools, the largest chain of private stand-alone high schools in the country.

Description of the transaction including the timetable for implementation and related regulatory requirements, if any Merger between iPeople and AC Education, with iPeople as the surviving entity.

The transaction shall be subject to the approvals of the stockholders of iPeople and AC Education, as well as regulatory approvals such as the Philippine Competition Commission and the Securities Exchange Commission.

Target effectivity date for the merger is within the first half of 2019.

Discussion of major projects and investments

AC Education, Inc. is the wholly-owned education arm of Ayala Corporation. AC Education aims to deliver inclusive, quality education which improves employability for its high school and college graduates. AC Education achieves this through student value-add programs, industry-based experiential learning methods, systematic teacher training, an emphasis on values and life skills, and a strong employer-partner network.

AC Education's basic education arm, Affordable Private Education Center Inc. (APEC), is the largest chain of stand-alone private high schools in the country with over 18,000 students in the Greater Manila area. APEC offers both Junior High School and Senior High School programs.

AC Education owns 59 percent of University of Nueva Caceres (UNC), one of the largest universities in the Bicol region with over 8,500 students. Its largest colleges are in Engineering and Architecture, Business & Accountancy and Education.

In early 2018, AC Education acquired National Teachers College (NTC) which offers Basic to Higher Education to over 12,000 students. Located in the Quiapo, Manila, NTC is one of the most well recognized teacher education institutions in the country and also offers programs in Accountancy & Business, Arts & Science, Hospitality Management and Information Technology.

House of Investments and Ayala Announce Strategic Merger of Education Companies

MAKATI, Philippines – October 1, 2018 House of Investments Inc. ("HI"), HI's education holding company iPeople, inc. ("iPeople"), Ayala Corporation ("AC") and AC's wholly-owned education subsidiary AC Education, Inc. ("AC Education") signed the definitive agreements for the merger of AC Education with iPeople. The merger shall be subject to the approval of the stockholders of AC Education and iPeople, and securing the necessary regulatory approvals. Post-merger, listed iPeople shall be the surviving entity, with HI and AC controlling 51.3% and 33.5%, respectively. The transaction values the combined entity at approximately Php15.5 billion.

HI and AC will share governance and management of iPeople which, as a result of this strategic partnership, will become one of the leading education groups in the country, with almost 60,000 students.

The merger will bring together the 7 educational institutions of iPeople and AC Education, which together will offer quality education to students across all income segments, with campuses in Metro Manila, Calabarzon, the Bicol Region, and Mindanao. The merger will include iPeople and its significant subsidiary, Malayan Education System, Inc. (Operating under the name of Mapua University), one of the country's leading engineering and technical universities, a world ranked QS-3 star university and the school with the most CHED Centers of Excellence in Engineering, and its subsidiaries, Malayan Colleges Laguna, the best board exam performing private higher education institution in Calabarzon, Malayan Colleges Mindanao in Davao, and Malayan Science High School in Manila. It will also include AC Education and its subsidiaries, the University of Nueva Caceres, one of the oldest and largest universities in Bicol, National Teachers College, the country's pioneer private teachers' training tertiary education institution, and APEC Schools, the largest chain of private stand-alone high schools in the country.

"We are looking forward to the merger of AC Education and iPeople. Mapua's reputation as a leading private engineering and technical university in the country, together with AC Education's tested ability to provide affordable quality education, leading to the employability of its graduates, would enable the Yuchengco-owned House of Investments and Ayala Corporation to jointly contribute, in a bigger scale, to the Philippines and all sectors of society. Together, our schools will not only aim at educating our youth but also at preparing our graduates to become major players in sustainable businesses driven by adaptive technology," said Mrs. Helen Y. Dee, Chairperson of House of Investments.

"We are looking forward to working closely with the Yuchengcos' House of Investments in helping to build the nation through education. We believe that combining our resources and capabilities will allow us to, together, enable many more Filipinos to achieve their dreams of a better life for themselves, their families and communities, by arming them with the values, critical thinking, global mindset and 21st century skills that are necessary to succeed in this rapidly changing world," said Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala, Chairman and CEO of Ayala Corporation.

BPI Capital Corporation acted as the exclusive financial adviser to AC Education while RCBC Capital Corporation acted as the exclusive financial adviser to iPeople.
